This Draught of the Country to the NE. of China is made according to the memoirs of Martini the Jesuite &c.

This Draught of the Country to the NNE, and East of China is according to the memoirs of Verbiest the Jesuite.

How far this Coast extends its self, is not known

This Great River Helum is by some called Quenning, upon which the Moscovites come to make warr with the Tartars, It is supposed to fall into the Eastern Ocean.

All this Coast, as well as that of Japon, are drawn after the Portuguese Charts, which are very different from the French Sr. Sansons

Nipcheu or Nipchou, whither Father Gerbillon a French Jesuite was sent Envoy in 1689, by the Empr. of China to treat of a peace with the Moscovites.

Lassa or Barantola, this town is ye Seat of the Great Lama, Cheif of all the Lamas, which are the Priests of ye Western Tartars.

This which is supposed by the Europeans to be one I. called Niphon, makes up the far greatest part of the Empr. of Japon.

Jedo, the ordinary Residence at this day of the Emperour of Japon

Here inhabit several Hordes of Mongul Tartars under their several Princes
